MAKAWELI NEWS

Political, Personal And General
Notes, Seasoned With Breezy
Gossip

(Special Correspondence.)

Makaweli and neighborhood are strong for B. D. Baldwin for supervisor from this side, and although the names of Mr. T. Brandt and Mr. G. F. Rankin are mentioned with favor, sentiment seems to be crystallizing in favor of Mr. Baldwin. It is generally conceded that Mr. Baldwin would make a first-class supervisor, and as he is supported by two-thirds of the taxation interests of the district, he must be regarded as a representative man in a business as well as a general sense.

Mr. Ebeling, of Makaweli, is again being persistently mentioned for the office of county sheriff.

AN AUTO COLLISION

Chang Yau, of Bishop & Company's bank, Waimanalo, and family narrowly escaped serious injuries a few evenings ago when their car collided with another machine at Makaweli. Chang Yau's car was completely overturned, but fortunately no one suffered more than slight injuries.

FASOTH TO KIPAHULU

It is understood that John Fasoth, formerly manager of Waimea Sugar Company's plantation, is now occupying a similar position with the Kipahulu Sugar Company, on the island of Maui.

DANCING AND TENNIS

Dancing seems to have taken the people of this district by storm. New dances, the one-step and hesitation waltz have carried many "off their feet", and dancing classes under the very able tuition of Miss Low are just now quite the thing. Not content with the classes, many are meeting at private houses for rehearsals, and it will doubtless not be long before we have a fine crop of dancers at this end of the island.

The Waimea Tennis Club has recently come into existence. The court at the old Fasoth home has been put into shape, and tennis players are looking forward to a season of good playing.

THE ESTRAY ORDINANCE

Makaweli people are rather glad that it will soon be time to show the supervisors whether or not they approve the sidetracking of that estray ordinance, which many had wished so hard to secure. Incidentally, it is now up to the Legislature to help us a little in this matter. Then, with the power to act behind him, the sheriff can see that a little civilized protection is afforded on our highways.

PERSONAL MENTION

J. P. Cooke, head of Alexander & Baldwin, inspected the plantations in which his company is interested, last week.

Mr. W. K. Schultze, of Makaweli, has the distinction of being the possessor of the first Oldsmobile motor car on Kauai, it having recently arrived.

Waimea Goes Dancing

Judge and Mrs. C. B. Hofgaard entertained a few of their friends at a dancing party Thursday evening. Both direct and circumstantial evidence are to the effect that the eminent Waimea jurist has himself become a pastmaster in the terpsichorean art.

Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Lyman also entertained a few friends at a dancing party during the week.

Auto Drivers Fight

A couple of Japanese drivers of flag autos, having a dispute about a load of passengers which one claimed and the other got, met at Koloa Sunday and settled their differences in a wrestling match. Spectators considered the contest a draw, but both of the principals seemed satisfied with the results and went their respective routes in peace.

A MURDER IN THE CAMP AT KILAUEA

A Filipino named Lorenzo Mayoyo, residing in the Filipino camp at Kilauea plantation, was shot at the left side of the left eye between 7 and 8 o'clock Sunday evening and died about an hour and a half later.

The shooting, which was with a revolver, took place in the room of one Antonio Icala, also in the camp, and was in the presence of Icala and at least one other man. It is alleged that the shooting occurred immediately after the man Mayoyo entered the room, indicating that it was the culmination of a previous feud.

Upon preliminary information received, a plantation policeman, employed by the Kilauea Sugar Company, arrested Icala and turned him over to Deputy Sheriff Werner. He is now in Hanalei jail.

A coroner's jury was empaneled yesterday to inquire into the case, and adjourned over from yesterday afternoon to today to complete its investigation.

It is stated that this is another case in which liquor played an important part.

Koloa News Notes

Ladies of Koloa engaged in sewing for the war sufferers in Europe had a very pleasant work-social session with Mrs. Dr. A. H. Waterhouse last Thursday afternoon. A number of sewing machines were kept buzzing and a large number of warm garments advanced to completion. Ice cream and other refreshments were enjoyed.

One of our citizens most directly interested in the great war in Europe is Mr. P. A. Romane, bookkeeper of the Koloa Sugar Company, whose old home is immediately on the battle line in Alsace. He has many relations actually in the fighting and others who are constantly affected by it.

W. Smith, of Hanalei, is assisting Mr. Charman in the Koloa post-office.

To Honolulu Court

Deputy United States Marshal Harris arrived from Honolulu last Wednesday morning and placed under arrest Manuel G. Silva, the automobile man of Homesteads, and Mrs. Esther K. Medeiros, of Koloa. The prisoners were confined in the jail at Koloa until Saturday afternoon, when they were transferred to the Kilauea and taken to Honolulu.

The parties are preliminarily charged with violating the Edmunds Act, the offense being committed, it is alleged, at Hanalei. It is understood that complaint to the United States authorities came through the Kauai police. On account of the fact that both of the accused persons are well known on Kauai, the case and the arrests created a mild sensation.

Eleele Highlands

Inspector George S. Raymond and Vocational Instructor Alsbaugh were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morse, of the Eleele Highlands, Thursday evening.

J. P. Cooke, president of Alexander & Baldwin, visited Makaweli and McBryde plantations at the week-end.

Last Thursday morning in Honolulu Rev. J. M. Lydgate, of Lihue, addressed the pupils of Punahou Preparatory school on the subject of "Old Punalou"—the Punalou of years ago when he was a student there. The city papers report that the address was one of particular interest.

MR. TAYLOR WILL BOOST FOR KAUAI

Writing under date of January 20, A. P. Taylor, the new acting secretary of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, says:

"I assure you that it is the purpose of the Promotion Committee as well as that of the new Outdoor Promotion Committee to emphasize the physical, climatical and hospital attractions of the Garden Island. This office is now fairly buzzing with 'Kauai' owing to the activity displayed in looking for the Kauai excursion for February 12th. A great many tourists who visit the office are being interested in this trip and announce their intention of going over."

"As a pilgrimage for Island people alone, the Kauai trip is certain to reveal wonders in peaks, ranges, gorges and canyons that they never dreamed of. My own visits to Kauai were of a most delightful character. In all my lectures given on the Mainland this past year, in which I used a large number of stereopticon slides, I spoke of the similarity of Kauai's wonderful canyons to those of the Rocky Mountains."

"We will boost for Kauai consistently, as this Promotion Committee is in the business to boost all the Islands, and not Oahu alone."

Inspector Raymond, who extended his tour of the Kauai schools, returned to Honolulu Saturday night.

J. I. Silva, Eleele, has added a big, new Federal truck to his store delivery equipment.

OFFICIAL CALL FOR THE PRIMARY

The only change in the arrangement for the primary election on March 13 of importance is in the voting place of Lihue precinct, which is moved from Lihue Social Hall to the county building. This change was to have been made prior to the regular election last year, but the office of the Territorial secretary overlooked it until it was too late.

The rules for the election are the same as formerly, except that county in place of Territorial officials will be voted for. Those successful at the primary will be ballotted upon in the regular way at the election to be held in May—provided all of the county officers are not really elected at the primary.

The announcement of the county clerk, published on another page of this issue, will convey a complete idea of the plans for the election.

It will now be in order for candidates to get busy.

ALL STAR PLAYERS COMING TO KAUAI

H. M. Ayres, while on this island last week, completed arrangements for a tour of this island by the Players All Star Company, now appearing with great success at the Bijou theater in Honolulu.

The company will open at Waimea February 17, presenting "Maggie Pepper," and the following evening at the same place will offer "Bought And Paid For." At Koloa on the evening of the 19th, the bill will be "Our Wives."

Lihue will be reached on Saturday, the 20th., the opening here being in "Kindling," and closing the following Monday evening in either "Fine Feathers" or the "Conspiracy," this to be decided later.

The George Webb company of All Stars are well known. It will be the largest combination visiting Kauai in a very long time, and a real treat is in store for theater-goers of the island.

WOULD-BE THIEF IS CAUGHT IN ACT

Zacharias Albert, Filipino, was given one year in prison by Judge Hofgaard in the Waimea court on Saturday for attempting to steal.

The offense was committed on Thursday in the Camp 4 store. Zacharias, it appears, reached the cash drawer and attempted to open it. The drawer's bell, however, was something he had not figured on and when it sounded attention was at once attracted to the spot. The Filipino was caught and turned over to the police.

Waimea Gamblers

Ten Chinese were arrested by the Waimea police at Camp 4 Saturday night for gambling. Monday morning four of them failed to appear in Judge Hofgaard's court, thus forfeiting bail. Six others entered pleas of guilty and were fined $5 each.

Wharf Gate Next

Mark Houghtalling and workmen who have been improving the Hanalei wharf, returned to Lihue last Thursday and at once began work on a gate for Nawiliwili wharf. It is the intention to keep the latter wharf closed to the public except when in use, and to forbid smoking thereon.

HANALEI NOTES

Wharf Improvements Completed—Interesting Budget Of Happenings On North Side.

(Special Correspondence.)

The Hanalei wharf is now graced by a fine large derrick which was erected under the supervision of Mr. Houghtalling of Honolulu. The derrick was originally on the Anahulu wharf but being of no further use there was brought over to Hanalei. Any plantations having extra heavy machinery to receive or ship can now be accommodated at Hanalei. The derrick will certainly keep the end of the wharf in place. All that is necessary now, to be quite up to date, is a small locomotive to pull the cars up and down the wharf.

It is rumored that in the near future several more bungalows will be built on the Waiohi Beach Lots. This is as it should be for there is no place to equal Hanalei as a seaside resort.

It is also rumored that the Hanalei water works is coming, bye and bye.

Inspector Raymond and Supervising Principal Brodie inspected the schools in this district during last week and express themselves as highly gratified with conditions.

Mr. Baldwin, of Makaweli, was a visitor in Hanalei last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Menefoglio and Miss Benton, of Waimanalo, and Mr. R. Fricke and Mr. C. Ahrens spent Sunday at Keaunope as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Birkenve.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wilcox, with Mrs. E. P. Low, of Honolulu, who is visiting them, motored over to Hanalei on Wednesday, spending the night at their beach residence, returning to Lihue on Thursday.

Sheriff Rice visited Hanalei on Friday on official business.

The weather was dry all of last week with strong winds and the nights were quite cold. A heavy northerly swell was rolling in for several days.

BRIDE AND GROOM ARE ENTERTAINED

Tuesday evening Senator and Mrs. Charles A. Rice entertained at an elaborately appointed dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rankin, who have recently returned from their honeymoon.

A large basket of artistically arranged Cecille hibiscus graced the center of the table. The place cards were dainty hand-painted ladies in the most modish costumes.

After dinner the party attended Miss Low's dancing class at Kilauea.

Senator and Mrs. Rice's guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Knudsen, Miss Louise Day, Dr. and Mrs. Putman, Mr. Grote and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rice, Jr.

Lihue vs. Homestead

Dr. A. R. Glaisyer brought his Homestead Braves over to Lihue Sunday afternoon to try conclusions with the local baseball team. The contest, which started at 2 o'clock, was almost as slow as the fighting in France, finally ending in a score of 18 to 17 against the visitors. John Fernandez pitched most of the time for the Lihue and Manuel Andrade steadied the box for the Kalaheos.

The Homesteaders went away feeling that a second game would surely come out different, and a "come back" will probably result.

Thermometer 47

The thermometer in Lihue registered 47 at an early hour this morning. There was no wind, but the air was usually unkind. It is believed that this is Lihue's low record for the year.
